ISAAC VINTON GRAY DEAD.

One of Philipsburg's Praise—Worthy Citizens.

BORN IN HALF MOON TOWNSHIP

Died Thursday Morning Aged 68 Years—A Prominent Business Man of Sterling Integrity.

KNOWN THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY

The Philipsburg Journal contains the following account of the death of a citizen of that place well known all over the county.

Seldom has this community received a greater shock than that caused by the word, swiftly passed from one to another Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, "I. V. Gray is dead." The report was only too true. The expression of sadness on all faces was but an outward indication of the high esteem in which this good man was held in this community. Prominent in church circles, never obtrusive, but always having the good of the church at heart. A leading business man attending strictly to his own affairs, he was indeed one of our leading citizens.

It was known by few persons that Mr. Gray was suffering from some heart affections and to some he had made the statement that he would one day be taken suddenly so that his immediate family and friends may have expected such an outcome and in a measure had been prepared for the terrible shock. Mr. Gray, to all appearances, however, was in his usual health up to nearly 11 o'clock Thursday as stated. He attended prayer meeting at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening, and was about the house as usual Thursday morning and was mowing the lawn when he complained of being very sick. Before the Doctor hastily summoned could reach him he had passed away.

Mr. Gray was born in Half Moon valley, this county, nearly 68 years ago and has always resided in the county. He came to Philipsburg nearly 25 years ago and has been associated in various business enterprises, having been as stated an active business man for many years. No man was more honorable in his dealings with his fellow man than he and no man had more than he the confidence and esteem of his associates in business.

Business men are not always successful and Mr. Gray, too, had reverses in business. Some years ago he failed and effected a settlement at 50 cents on the dollar. Several years later he called at the various places of business where he had accounts, saying, "I have come to pay the balance of my account." "We have no balance against you, Mr. Gray; your account with us is settled." "Wasn't paid in full was it?" "No but the settlement was satisfactory to us." "I am here to pay the other 50 cents," said Mr. Gray and he paid it. The incident is given as showing the sterling honesty of the man and his steadfast, upright character.

I. V. Gray is survived by his wife and five children, Walter, of this city; Victor, of Scotia, Pa., and Florence, Myrian and Virginia, all at home.

Funeral from his late home on South Centre street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Geo. D. Pennepacker officiating.

Thus has passed away a good man, and a christian, one who has left his impress on the community for good and the expression of one closely associated with him. "He was the best man I ever knew". Seeking not praise but only his due.

Put Planks on Track—Doesn't Know Why.

WILLIAMSPORT, Aug 17.—"Yes, I put the planks and the stones on the rails to wreck a train, but I don't know why I did it.

That was the confession of 16-year-old Walter Alexander, of Cogan Station, before Alderman Batzle Thursday. He was sent to jail in default of $3,000 bail for trial at court.

The blockade was made near Cogan Station and consisted of four six-inch oak planks ten feet long, wedged fast with stone.

The boy hid at an advantageous point to see the wreck. A freight, instead of a passenger train, struck the obstacle and the locomotive and seven cars bumped over it. Nobody was hurt.

Sheep Killed by Lightning.

During the heavy storm that passed over this vicinity Thursday evening of last week, lightning struck a shed at Lemont in which a flock of sheep belonging to James Shuey had taken shelter, killing nine of the innocent animals.

CENTRE COUNTY VETS.

September 12 and Pine Grove Mills are Time and Place of Veteran Picnic.

The Executive Committee of the Centre County Veteran Association met in the office of W. H. Musser this Saturday morning and considerable business of importance was transacted.

A letter was read from the chairman, Gen. James A. Beaver, who is now out on a business trip in the mountains and who expects to attend the National G. A. R. encampment at San Francisco before returning home. In his absence Vice President Pattison occupied the chair.

The principal business was arranging for the annual Veteran Picnic. The picnic will be held on September 12 at Pine Grove Mills. Committees were appointed as follows:

Transportation—Gen. John I. Curtin, A. V. Miller and W. A. Ishler.

Amusements—Capt. W. H. Fry, J. W. Sunday and J. G. Heberling.

Secretary Musser was instructed to secure the speakers and look after other matters.

There was a large turnout of members of the committee.

The Curtin Monument question was taken up and discussed and it was urged that some action be taken in the matter.

Wild Woolly West Practice.

Passengers on the afternoon B., R. & P. train were treated to a wild west exhibition Thursday. Oscar Hayes was the cause of all the disturbance. He boarded the train at DuBois and when the conductor asked him to come in off the platform he flatly refused. On his failure to produce a ticket he was put off the train at the C. & M. Junction. He again boarded the train and was again expelled.

Then he crawled on again, and this time when he was ordered to alight he refused to do so. He was forcibly put off and when he had pulled himself together he drew out a revolver and commenced firing. Two shots were fired by him and the baggageman returning the fire, also shot twice. No one was hit but a lot of excitement prevailed. The man was later captured and landed in jail.

It is said that in some respects he resembles the party who is wanted at Ridgway for assaulting a girl at that place.

Methodist Day at Hecla Park.

Friday was Methodist day at Hecla Park and over one thousand people were in attendance. The two Sunday schools from Lock Haven and the one from Bellefonte were there. The Zion band accompanied the Bellefonte delegation and rendered music during the day. The day was cool and pleasant and everybody seemed to have a good time and to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

In the evening there was the usual Friday night dance in which of course the Methodist brethren did not participate. Christy Smiths orchestra furnished the music and about two hundred people tripped the light fantastic.

Several private parties were entertained at the Nittany Country Club during the day.

M. H. Pingree Meets With Accident.

On July 27th M. H. Pingree, Assistant Chemist at the Experiment Station, State College, met with an accident which will seriously impair the sight of his left eye.

While driving through an old wood road at Denmark, Maine, where he was visiting his old home, he went ahead to cut some limbs that obstructed the way. A stick flying from one of these struck him in the eye, inflicting a very painful injury.

He is now receiving treatment at the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Portland, Maine, and while the sight of the eye will be permanently injured it is hoped that it will not be entirely destroyed.

Hospital Notes.

Henry Barger, of Moshannon, who was operated on for appendicitis is reported as getting along nicely.

Miss Grace Beck, a trained nurse in the Williamsport hospital was a visitor at the Bellefonte hospital Wednesday.

Ray Barkle, of Pittsburg, called on her sister Miss Maude Barkle, one of the trained nurses at the hospital on Wednesday,

—A train leaves Pittsburg for the east and travels thirty miles an hour. Another train leaves Philadelphia for the west, three hours later, running forty miles an hour. When they meet which will be the farthest from Philadelphia and which will be nearest Pittsburg?

OUR BOROUGH FATHERS

Held Their Regular Semi-Monthly Session Monday Night.

THEY WERE SLOW GATHERING

Col. Reynolds Occupied the Chair in the Absence of President Cunningham—Bill-Boards Must Go.

BILLS PAID AMOUNTED TO $852.40

Monday evening there was considerable delay in convening Council for their regular semi-monthly session. The councilmen dropped in slowly in the following order: Wise, Derstine, Kirk, Reynolds, and finally Harry Fenlon at five minutes after eight added his presence, making the necessary quorum.

Borough officers Burgess Walker, Solicitor Fortney, Treasurer Meek, Water Superintendent Ryan and Street Commissioner Shaughnessy were conspicuous by their presence.

Clerk of Council W. T. Kelly called council to order, in the absence of President Cunningham, and on motion of Mr. Derstine, seconded by Dr. Kirk, Col. Reynolds was elected president pro tem.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Verbal communications were called for and Frank Galbraith complained of the bill-board on East Bishop street which is being erected along the McBride property.

Burgess Walker called attention of council to the dog nuisance. He asked council to take some action in the matter in regard to the dog question as many more dogs are running at large than are taxed. Every day complaint comes to him of children being bitten by these vicious dogs.

An invitation was received from the secretary of the Susquehanna District Association, Knights of the Golden Eagle, to participate in the parade which will take place on Monday afternoon, Labor Day, September 7, in which 3,000 Knights will be in line.

The Street committee reported progress in the work of laying the new wall along Water street.

Dr. Kirk reported the bill-board recently erected on Thomas street as a nuisance.

W. L. Steele was present and stated that he erected the bill-boards under a contract with the Wallace show and that the lumber belonged to him and that he had put them just where directed.

Mr. Fenlon, moved, seconded by Dr. Kirk, that the owners of the bill boards on Thomas and Bishop streets be notified to remove them off borough property at once, or street commissioner would remove them at owner's expense.

In regard to Burgess Walker's request in regard to the dog question council decided to pay the high constable 25 cents for every dog he buries. We suppose High Constable Ben Williams will start on the war path at once and kill every dog on sight that is not muzzled or licensed.

The borough treasurer's report shows a balance due that official of over $4,000. Mr. Wise moved, seconded by Mr. Fenlon, that a note be given the treasurer for the amount running two months. It was so ordered.

An ordinance was offered by Solicitor Fortney in regard to having the ordinances passed transcribed in an ordinance book. Dr. Kirk moved, seconded by Mr. Wise, that this ordinance be adopted. The motion carried.

The following bills were approved and ordered paid:

Water pay roll	$156.13
Labor on Water street wall	129.75
Street pay roll	49.48
John Olewine	1.75
S. K. Woodring	10.00
A. Allison, supplies	2.78
Police Pay Roll	53.75
Mac Heinle	15.00
Thos. Shaughnessy, 1mo as clerk	1.00
P. R. R. Co.	97.14
A. Allison, plumbing supplies	8.45
J. L. Montgomery, coal for W. W.	51.35
Thos. Beaver, hauling	5.01
S. K. Woodring	5.00
Garlock Packing Co.	4.13
Henry Worthington	9.64
McCalmont & Co.	7.95
Crandall Packing Co.	1.25
J. S. Knisely	1.80
	$852.40

—Mayor Laedlein, of Williamsport has vetoed the curfew ordinance, giving as his reason therefore that such a law would be a base reflection on the city's fair name.

SHOT TO KILL.

A Desperate Negro Landed Bullet in Face of Brakeman John Attig of Tyrone.

Thursday night at about 11.30 o'clock several men, one of whom was John B. Attig, a brakeman on the Tyrone division, whose home is in Tyrone, were at the Heintzelman restaurant on Pennsylvania avenue, just above Eleventh street says the Tyrone Herald. A mulatto named Robert Cadwick and James Wiser, forming another group were also there. While there was no quarrel or boisterous outbreak as the men partook of a midnight lunch, trouble was evidently brewing through an undercurrent.

Cadwick and his companion finished their lunch first and stepped out on the pavement. Shortly after the other group finished eating and were about to leave the place. Attig was approaching the door from the inside, and when within a step or two of it Cadwick from the outside, without seeming provocation, fired two shots through the wire screen directly at him, with hopes evidently for the worst result. One ball went through a partition and in turn through the back wall of the house. The other struck Attig on the face just below the left cheek bone, and lodged somewhere in the back part of the neck.

The man fell to the floor but immediately rose again and ran out of the house by way of the back door but at once ran forward again to the pavement through the adjoining pool room. He sat down on a porch in the neighborhood while some of his associates ran to the office of Dr. W. S. Musser. A few minutes later the man was assisted to the doctor's office where the bullet was probed for but not exactly located. He was then removed to his home, and at 2.40 Friday afternoon was taken to the Altoona hospital.

Dr. Musser says while the wound is severe and the ball evidently buried quite deep the man's general condition is favorable and the wound is not necessarily dangerous. Persons who witnessed the affair express the belief that it was the intention of the negro to shoot Ira Aults, instead of Attig, as he seemed to have a grudge at Aults, and probably thought it was he who was approaching the door.

Cadwick after the shooting coolly walked up Pennsylvania avenue and turning up Twelfth street disappeared. He is a yellow skinned negro about 25 years old, smooth face, 5 feet 7 inches high, and stoop shouldered. He wore brown trousers, dark coat and a black cap. He is a bad man. Night Officer Snyder who was in the neighborhood at the time proceeded to the home of Chief Wands and woke that officer up. A search was instituted and continued in the railroad yard and elsewhere for several hours but no track of Cadwick was found. He had been here about a month working on the street paving jobs.

Tennis Players Enjoy A Ride to Bellefonte.

Thursday afternoon Messrs. Sedgwick Kistler, L. M. Hayes, Clarence Weymouth and Calvin Armstrong enjoyed a delightful ride to Bellefonte in Mr. Armstrong's automobile touring car. The trip was made in two hours and on their arrival at Bellefonte the gentlemen were the guests of Wilson Gephart, who entertained them royally. After a friendly game of tennis at Bellefonte a run was made to Hecla park and after a stop of several hours the homeward journey was begun. Everything went smoothly until Mill Hall was reached when a punctured tire gave the tourists some trouble and caused them some delay.—Lock Haven Express.

Bellefonte's Hope

THE FISH HATCHERY.

It Will Positively Come to Bellefonte—So Says Creveling.

The REPUBLICAN is authorized by Superintendent John P Creveling to state thatthe new State Fish Hatchery will postively be located at Bellefonte all reports to the contrary.

For several days rumors have been afloat to the effect that the hatchery would not come here. These reports were not without foundation as it was found that the water would not have the proper fall necessary to propagate trout and for awhile things looked pretty blue. Supt Creveling has found a way to overcome this and states the hatchery will be built here.

This is good news and we hope it will prove true as the promoters were very downhearted over the outlook.

—Advertising car No. 1 of Wallace's circus arrived in town Tuesday morning and billed the town.

CROWDS OF PEOPLE

Were in Attendance at the Business Men's Picnic

AT HECLA PARK ON WEDNESDAY

The Day Was an Ideal One and the Railroad Facilities Were Taxed to Their Utmost—Trap Shooting, Racing, Base Ball.

PLENTY OF FUN FOR EVERYONE

The seventh annual picnic of the Centre and Clinton County Business Men's Picnic Association was held Wednesday at Hecla Park and as in years gone by the attendance was large. It was estimated that 8,000 people were on the ground during the day. It was an ideal day for a picnic and Lock Haven and Bellefonte turned out en masse. The country districts were also largely represented and Philipsburg, State College, Mill Hall and even Jersey Shore and Williamsport sent large delegations. Not only did the railroad company carry their full quota but in addition hundreds came in vehicles of all descriptions from the fancy carriage to the common road wagon. All were laden with good things and their occupants bent on having a good time and they had it. Good order prevailed almost universally during the day and this added to the pleasure. We did hear of one fight in which one man chewed another's nose and ear almost off, but this was the only disturbance.

The railroad company deserves all kinds of praise for the manner in which they transported the people to and from the park. It was a great improvement over former years. Trains ran more frequent and nearly on time. There was very little to complain of.

There was plenty of music during the day for those who enjoyed it. The Germania orchestra and the Bellefonte orchestra furnished music for dancing and the Coleville and Milesburg bands gave open-air concerts.

The amusement program began with a minstrel show and cake walk from 11 to 12 a. m. Those who took part were Guy McEntire, Louis Daggett, Joseph Barnes, John Wood, Fred Chambers, Budd Harper, Clarence Smith, Harry Dickinson, Russell Lindsey, John Leichty, Frank Smith and Bun Walker. The performance was a good one and was repeated in the evening between 6 and 7 o'clock.

At 2 p. m. there was an interesting ball game between Williamsport and Harrisburg State League teams, which was won by Harrisburg, score 9 to 2.

The trap shooting came off at 5 p. m. The first prize, a 22 calibre Savage rifle, was won by H. C. Quigley, Esq. The second prize was captured by John Van Pelt.

The running race, at 4 p. m., was an interesting feature and drew a large crowd. There were three entries, as follows: George Beezer's "Trixie," Al Baum's "Dan," and "Kioute," owned by Kessinger of Mill Hall. The last named won the race in two straight heats. "Dan" was second in first heat and "Trixie" second in second heat.

Harvesting Grain out in California.

The farmers of Centre county will be interested in the following description of a harvest machine in use in the Fernando valley, Cal., as given in the August Worlds Work by W. B. Thornton. This combined harvester is the largest in the world. It consists of a traction engine capable of hauling 75 tons which takes the place of 60 horses, a header or mowing machine which cuts a 36-foot swath and a complete threshing machine. The header and threshing machine are run by a separate 30-horse power engine getting its steam from the same boiler as the threshing machine. The drive wheels of this monster traction engine are 8 feet in diameter, with tires 48 inches wide on which are ridges an inch and a half high. It can average three and a half miles an hour in good grain. The thresher has a capacity of 100 acres a day. Eight men are employed on the thresher. The grain is threshed clean and finally carried to a bin from which it is sacked. When 12 sacks have been filled they are allowed to slide off the cart to the rounds. This huge machine will work equally well on level or hilly country, having sufficient power to take a 20 per cent. grade without difficulty. It is 66 feet long, half as wide, and weighs more than 100 tons. Oil is used as fuel.

PASSED TO THE GREAT BEYOND.

Mrs. Mary A. Hull, Formerly of Bellefonte Died at McKeesport.

On Wednesday afternoon the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Hull who had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Claude Messey, at New Kensington, had died while on a visit to another daughter, Mrs. James Krick, at McKeesport. The telegram received by her children in Bellefonte did not state the cause of their mother's death, but she had been subject to cramp and it is supposed that it was while suffering from one of these attacks that she passed away.

Mrs. Hull was born at Centre Furnace, Centre county, and was 69 years old. She was the wife of the late Samuel Hull, who preceded her to the grave twelve years ago. She was a resident of Bellefonte about twenty years, but the last few years has been making her home with a daughter at New Kensington, Pa.

She was a consistent Christian, and has hosts of friends, who mourn with her family in this sad bereavement.

She leaves the following children to mourn her death: Benjamin, of Lewistown; Mrs. Frank Wescott, of Reynoldsville; James, John and Mrs. Wm. Rhinesmith, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Claude Messey, of New Kensington, and Mrs James Krick, of McKeesport

The funeral took place Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of her son, John Hull, on East Bishop street, Rev. John A. Wood, of the Methodist church, officiating.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The casket bearers were the following gentlemen: Messrs. D. F. Fortney, John Dunlap, John Trafford and William C Heinle. The interment was made in the Union cemetery.

DEATH OF SAMUEL MUSSER.

A Former Centre Countian Dies at Tyrone.

Samuel Musser, who was a native of Centre county and spent the greater part of his life here up until a year ago, died at his home in Tyrone Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. Death was due to paralysis, he having suffered several strokes since last spring.

Deceased was born in Harris township and was the oldest son of William and Catherine Musser, deceased. He was engaged in farming the greater part of his life, owning a well tilled farm in Ferguson township. About a year and a half ago he retired and has since been living in Tyrone.

He was married to Nancy Rider, a daughter of Michael Rider, of Gatesburg, who survives him with twelve children, all grown up. Several of the sons are quite prominent in the business and professional walks of life. He also leaves two brothers and one sister, as follows: John Musser, Jr., of Pine Grove Mills; William H., and Mrs. Frank B. Stover, of Bellefonte.

Mr. Musser was an honest, upright citizen and a member of the Presbyterian church.

The funeral took place Tuesday at 1 p. m., interment at the Tyrone cemetery.

Woman Accidentally Shot By Husband.

Mertie Rayborn was taken to the hospital Friday night to receive treatment for a bullet wound in her leg, which was received accidentally and in a singular manner says the Lock Haven Express. Her husband Clarence Rayborn had purchased a revolver Friday and in the evening about 8 o'clock was showing his wife how to use the weapon.

Mr. Rayborn fired a shot into the ground and the bullet, striking a stone or some other hard substance, glanced and struck his wife on the leg below the knee. Dr. Watson was called and, after giving the injured woman the necessary surgical attention, she was removed to the hospital. The bullet struck the leg with such force that both bones were broken.

The bullet has not been removed.

Death of Chas. Stem.

Charles Stem, one of the oldest citizens of Harris township, died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock as a result of injuries sustained while out walking in his yard about two weeks previous. He was born in Northumberland county about 86 years ago and was one of this county's most prosperous farmers. He was a member of the Reformed church and a highly respected citizen.

He was married twice his second wife being a Miss Campbell. Surviving him are his widow and the following children, William of Clintondale; Charles of Altoona; Clarence and Clyde at home.

The funeral took place this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. A. A. Black officiated. Interment at Boalsburg.

PRINCE CHARMING

By MARY SINTON LEWIS

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

Clare Worthington sat before the fire in the great oak paneled library. She had tried to read, but her book had slipped, unheeded, to the floor, while her thoughts wandered to that evening a week ago when the man whom she was now awaiting had asked her to be his wife. She had begged for a few days in which to consider her answer, and, after a week of severe mental struggle, she that morning had mailed to him the following letter:

"My Dear Mr. Staunton—It seems best to write what I have to say, as I have an explanation to make without which I should not feel justified in giving you an answer. I was always a complete failure as an actress, and so my only safety lies in entire frankness. I trust it will prove best in the end for both of us.

"I am not in love with you, and it has always been a part of my creed that marriage without love is a terrible mistake. I have seen the girls with whom I have grown up make, one by one, what the world calls 'excellent matches.' I, meanwhile, have clung desperately to my ideals and waited for the Prince Charming who should carry me off to his magic castle in Wonderland. But Prince Charming has never come. And now is it best to wait for him any longer? It is very doubtful whether he will ever come, and even if he did would Wonderland be a Wonderland after all to a woman of thirty-two years—or more? I think not.

"But I believe in marriage, and I believe in it for myself. I lead a busy, happy life, but I long for wider scope, bigger usefulness, closer friendship. Above all, I need to be needed as only a married woman can be needed. And so I come to tell you that I will be your wife. You are too generous to misunderstand my motives or to think that I would consent to marry you if I could not give you complete honor, confidence, trust. I feel for you, too, a liking more cordial than I have ever felt for any one else—man or woman. Oh, we are good companions—are we not? Do you remember that first walk we took in the park and what fun we had—what sheer, unadulterated fun? A man and woman ought never to marry, I think, unless they enjoy each other, unless they have good times together. But you and I always do. And, do you know, I am only just beginning to realize what earnestness lies underneath all your merry boyishness?

"SPRAGUE!" SHE CRIED DESPERATELY. "SPRAGUE!"

"Oh, you will give me richly, richly all that I need, and I shall make you happy. I will make you happy. If I did not feel that, I would not marry you. You know that. So you will not be hurt about Prince Charming and we will bury him deep—deep—you and I. Who knows what spirit of peace and happiness may rise out of his grave?

"CLARE."

When this letter had slipped out of the girl's fingers into the box and she had heard the lid snap upon it she had felt as though an era of her life had closed. The old order had changed, yielding place to the new. But though she was sacrificing the ideals for which she had so stoutly fought, she knew that her motives were pure and her heart clean. It was her wisdom alone that she doubted. Even as she waited now to hear her lover's step upon the flags outside she was conscious of a vague fear, a vague yearning for the "might have been."

A quick footstep in the hall startled her out of her reverie. She glanced at the clock on the mantel. It was not yet 8, and Sprague Staunton rarely called before half after 8. Then it flashed across her mind that this would be different from other calls—that he would be eager to reach her as soon as possible, that he would not sit there in the straight backed chair on the opposite side of the fireplace and talk with her with formal politeness, as he had always done before. He was coming with a lover's rights. He would take her in his arms—she felt herself trembling as the step in the hall came nearer. The maid entered with a note. Clare tore it open with fingers that shook:

"My Dear Clare—I cannot let you marry me. When I tell you this you will realize, perhaps, as you have never done, what my love for you means to me. I love you passionately, entirely, with all my strength, and that is the reason that I must give you up. Thank you—oh, thank you—for being honest with me.

"And wait, dear, for Prince Charming. If he never finds you, you will at least have been true to what is best in you. In being false to that, I am sure you would never find that wider scope and the bigger usefulness for which you long. Some would, in your place, perhaps, but not you. You see that instead of being a crusty old bachelor, as I ought to be, I am a young idealist still—but that is all your fault.

"I am going to drop in soon after my note reaches you, just for a quiet goodby. I find that I cannot go away without that. There is a piece of work in London that must be looked after, and I am glad to take the chance of a sea trip. Faithfully yours,

"SPRAGUE STAUNTON."

As the girl finished reading the letter, the fire, crackling noisily, threw a spark at her feet. She watched it slowly bore its way into the Persian rug, then flicker and go out. She realized with a start that she had not extinguished it. Rising she swept the hearthstone clear of ashes and arranged the fender to protect the rug. Stepping to the glass she pinned a stray lock of hair into its place. Then she sat down and tried to think. But her mind seemed strangely blank. Even the crackling of the fire annoyed her.

She could not have told whether she had sat there a minute or an hour when the maid brought her Sprague Staunton's card.

When he came in, the room seemed to brighten. There was a sunshine about his personality which every one felt without quite understanding. This evening his face was unclouded. The girl looked at him and wondered. Was this the man whose letter lay on her lap?

"You got my note? Is it all right?" he asked her. She nodded silently.

Then, with a quick change of tone:

"Thank you," he said, "and now I am off on a sea trip, old sea dog that I am. I can fairly smell the salt already."

"You ought to have been a sailor," she said, quickly responsive.

And so they talked of the trip, of his stay in London, of her plans for the coming winter—of everything save of the one subject that lay heavy on both their hearts.

When he rose to go Clare rose, too, and stood before him, her back to the fire. As the light struck suddenly upon his face she saw that his eyes were full of tenderness. But his voice did not break and the grip of his hand was firm when he bade her goodby.

As she heard his quick step ring along the hall the room began suddenly to swim round her. Her throat grew dry, her heart seemed to stop beating. In a moment the heavy front door would open and close again and Sprague Staunton would be gone out of her life forever.

Mastered by an emotion such as she had never known, she stretched out her arms blindly and called his name. She heard the front door open. Oh, if he should not hear! She forgot that she could recall him by a note on the morrow, forgot everything save that he was going from her and that she must not let him go.

"Sprague!" she cried desperately. "Sprague!"

In an instant he was beside her and had gathered her into his arms.

"I love you! Oh, how I love you—Prince Charming!" she whispered.

Soft White Hands.

There is just one way to keep your hands soft and white and lovely, and it is a very simple way. Use only the purest, best soap, like the imported white castile. When bathing the hands rinse them well and dry completely, afterward applying a cosmetic jelly made of thirty grains of gum tragacanth, seven ounces rosewater, an ounce each of alcohol and glycerin. Soak tragacanth in rosewater for three days, strain forcibly through muslin and add the other ingredients. A few drops of oil of rose will give a pleasant aroma. The advantage in using this preparation is that it dries immediately.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Scrubbing Brush.

One college girl I know goes down on her knees every Saturday during her vacations and wields the scrub brush, ostensibly to make the floor clean, but really to give herself the benefit of what she calls "a good sweat bath," writes Ethelwyn Wetherald in Good Housekeeping. For increasing circulation, clearing the complexion and giving a robust appetite it is superior to tennis and basket ball. No work can be drudgery unless it is drudged at.

Slow Payer.

Magistrate (to the Chinaman)—What's your complaint against this young man, John?

Chinaman—He's too muchee by and by.—Baltimore Jewish Comment.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

AS OTHER'S SEE US.

A Chicago Lady's View of Our Little City.

Among the recent visitors in Bellefonte were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Williams, of Chicago, Ill., who stopped at Mrs. Hoover's boarding house on North Spring street. Mr. William's was a former Centre Countian contemporaneous with Col. George Thomas and Caleb Gephart.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams were pleased with their stay in Bellefonte as the following letter in the Evening Telegraph of Dixon, Ill., written by Mrs. Williams under date of July 27th will testify.

EDITOR TELEGRAPH :—

As you see, I have enlarged my field of observation, since I last wrote from my window nook on Centre street, Chicago. What a change of landscape one meets on the trip between Chicago and the heart of the Allegheny mountains, our present stopping place. At Tyrone we left the Pennsylvania Central R. R., taking the Bald Eagle Valley road, which follows a little river which bears the same name. The valley is about half a mile wide, Muncy mountain looming up on one side and the big Allegheny on the other side, and at this season of the year, so covered with verdure, the eye never tires of their beauty.

This quaint little city of 5,000 inhabitants, founded in 1795 is named from a wonderful never-failing fountain, that is not only able to furnish abundant water for the city, but wastes more than is consumed, and a peculiarity of this spring is that the temperature never varies. I am told that the fountain discharges 15,200 gallons every minute.

The streets and houses remind one of old Philadelphia, although there are many modern spots sprinkled here and there, and one cannot go in any direction without encountering a hill, some of them like John Bunyarn's hill of difficulty.

Visiting the cemetery, I find that Governor Curtin is buried there. They called him the War Governor. Governor Hastings is another distinguished sleeper in this bit of God's acre.

Bellefonte is rather a sleepy old town; its age possibly has robbed it of the ambition that our young pioneer towns have, but for my own selfish interest, the quiet is simply delicious, from contrast with bustling, noisy Chicago. The people are not so grasping and greedy, and are most kindly hospitable, reminding one of the southener before the war.

About 25 miles east of Bellefonte, at a place called Lock Haven, they have a big industry in the manufacture of wood pulp, made from a peculiar pine, called the jack pine, growing in this section, and our postage stamps are made from this pulp.

Sound similar to the discharge of cannon, heard daily, at first caused no comment, thinking they were possible echoes of the 4th; but we soon learned it was dynamite used in blasting limestone rock, and that 50 car loads of crushed rock and lime are sent out from Bellefonte each day.

The western farmer with his broad acres would smile at the proportions here. From one of my windows I can look on a Half-Moon hill farm and one field of golden grain seems to me about the size of a bed quilt.

From this point we go to Washington for a few days, and then return to Chicago, to live it over in memory.

Respectfully,

GEORGIANA W. WILLIAMS

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

"I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption," says C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. "I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, not since." C. M. Parrish.

P. R. R. to Make Their Own Cars.

ALTOONA, Aug. 14.—Plans have been taken up by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for two additional steel car plants in Altoona.

The great demand for equipment and the inability of the outside manufacturers to deliver cars promptly have prompted the Pennsylvania officers to enter into the manufacture of steel cars on a much larger scale in order to supply their own necessities in the matter of equipment and be in an independent position.

It is also a move on the part of the Pennsylvania to establish shops at which all the rolling stock of the system, including passenger and freight cars and locomotives of all descriptions may be built.

Over half a million dollars will be spent for each of the new plants, including up-to-date machinery and many improvements over the old shops that are necessary to turn out cars equipped with all the latest devices.

TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

On account of the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at San Francisco, Cal., August 17 to 22, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company offers a personally conducted tour to the Pacific Coast at remarkably low rates.

Tour will leave New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg, Thursday, August 6, by special train of the highest grade Pullman equipment. An entire day will be spent at the Grand Canyon of Arizona, two days at Los Angeles, and visits of a half day or more at Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Del Monte, and San Jose. Three days will be spent in San Francisco during the Encampment. A day will be spent in Portland on the return trip, and a complete tour of the Yellowstone Park, covering six days, returning directly to destination via Billings and Chicago, and arriving Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York August 31.

Round-trip, rate covering all expenses for twenty-six days, except three days spent in San Francisco, $215; two in one berth, $200 each.

Round-trip rate, covering all expenses to Los Angeles, including transportation, meals in dining car, and visits to Grand Canyon and Pasadena, and transportation only through California and returning to the east by October 15, via any direct route, including authorized stopovers, $115; two in one berth, $105 each. Returning via Portland $11 additional will be charged.

Rates from Pittsburg will be five dollars less in each case.

An Object of Contempt.

The street loafer is an object of contempt everywhere. He has no social standing anywhere. His influence, if he is so fortunate as to have any, is always in the wrong direction. No one has ever found out what he is good for except that of being in everybody's way. He is considered a common nuisance for which no one has found a successful remedy. No successful business man will employ any one who they see hanging around on the street corners. The boy who can find nothing to do but loaf around the street would not be of very great value to his employer. When you have nothing else to do you should spend your time in trying to learn something that will be a benefit instead of spending it in idleness. You are watched just as closely when you are not at work as you are when you are working. Business men are on the look out for boys of energy and thrift. A position is alway ready for this kind of a boy. A street loafer does not want to work and could not get a position if he wanted it.

THE AX

of toughest steel becomes dulled by constant use and must have a new edge if it is to do good work. Constant work dulls a man as it does an ax, makes him sluggish of body and dull of mind. He needs a tonic, something that will restore the keenness of mind and activity of body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery puts new life into weak, worn-out, run-down men and women. It strengthens the weak stomach, purifies the blood, and effectively stimulates the liver. The whole body is built up with sound, solid flesh by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I was confined to my bed for four months from January 1st, 1899, and commenced to take your medicine January 26th, 1899," writes Mrs. Sallie L. Sheppard, of Poplarbluff, Mo. "I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, four of 'Favorite Prescription,' two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and one bottle of Doctor Pierce's Compound Extract of Smartweed, as a liniment. Indigestion, obstinate constipation, and hardening of the liver was my trouble. I am at this time able to do almost any kind of house work. Your medicine saved me from my grave. Thanks to you for the benefit. My case was hopeless when I began taking your medicine."

Don't be fooled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery," is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery," which no "just as good" medicine can show.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The Borough Streets.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.

Permit me to say a few words in your valuable columns relative to the wretched condition of the streets of this borough. Having been a resident of this place all my life, I have been an observer of their condition from time to time, but believe I never saw the streets in worse condition than at the present time, I speak particularly of the bridge over Spring Creek at the foot of High Street which at times is frightful. Men congregate upon the structure in the evenings, throwing banana skins and peanut shells upon the walks and expectorating tobacco juice upon the sides of the railing. Passing women have had their garments ruined before now by these uncleanly obstructions. Pavements in other parts of the town are just as uncleanly and in some cases grass is growing along the streets.

If city council and the street commissioner cannot cleanse the city any other way I would suggest that they secure a herd of swine or a flock of goats to devour the objectionable garbage.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." A CLEVER ILLUSTRATION

WITH CONCLUSIVE PROOF.

There is an old formula in philosophy which says that no two things can occupy the same place at the same time. As a simple illustration, drive a nail into a board and you will find with every stroke of the hammer, the nail will force aside the particles of wood into which it is being driven, finally making a place for itself, and proving that the nail and the wood do not occupy the same place at the same time.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cannot occupy the same place at the same time. If you are troubled with frequent pains in the back; if your urine stains linen; if you urinate frequently during the night, and a burning pain accompanies its passage, your kidneys and bladder are in bad shape and should be treated at once.

Every dose of DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY slowly but surely pushes aside some of the particles of the dread diseases of the kidneys and bladder, liver, blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and constipation, until they completely disappear. Do not lose faith or find fault, if you are not entirely cured by one bottle, because if these diseases have fastened their grip on you the longer and harder it is to drive them away.

Druggists sell it in New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

He found the Combination.

Frank had just passed through the throes of his first composition, and the result was something like this: "My dog has two eyes. My dog has four legs. My dog has a tail." His teacher said: "Frank, you should combine all those facts about your dog into one sentence," and forthwith gave him "The Horse" as the subject for his next essay.

The following day Frank entered the school-room with an air of conscious triumph, and hailed the teacher in a voice shrill with exultation: "Miss Mary, I've combined!" And he had, for this is what she read: "My horse has a fine disposition, a long tail, and a young colt."

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

DER PENNSYLVANIER

Mischter Druder!—D'r Bensch is leischt Johr in die Underteh-ker-Bisnis gange un er macht Geld wie Hoi. Sterwe is sei Gewinn. Er ver-steht es awer ah Nummero Eens. Ich muß allemol lache, wann er en Leicht hot; er kann en Gesicht mache, as wann er den Tod erfunne hät. Well, ich denk, des belangt ewe so zur Bisnis. En Leicht is kee Hochzig un ah kee Kinds-tahf. Seid frehlich mit die Frehliche un weint mit die Weinende, segt die Schrift.

Weil d'r Bensch nau ewe doch Gäul halte muß, so hot er ah en Liwery-Stall angefange un lehnt Gäul un Kärritsche aus. Do is dann vergange en Mann zu ihm kumme un hot ge-frogt, eb er net kennt en guter Gaul un Kärritsch hawe for en Woch. Er wär aus d'r Sitty un hät alleweil sei Summer-Vekehschen. Do wott er gern im Land rumfahre, die Bauereie begucke un ah nuf bis an die Kohlemeins. Er kennt treiwe un en Gaul händle un wot ihn ah triete, wie's recht wär. Wie viel as sell koschte sot d'r Dag. „Well," segt d'r Bensch, „ich denk, wegich em Preis däte mir net ausfalle; d'r Druwel is, ich kenn Dich net un geb Dir drum ah ken Gaul for en Woch."—„Was is seller dort Gaul un Kärritsch werth?" frogt d'r Fremb.—D'r Bensch besinnt sich en Weil un segt dann: „Zweehunnert Dhaler." — „Allrecht," segt d'r Mann, „ich geb Dir mei Noht for zweehunnert Dhaler. Wann ich des Fuhrwese net zuridbring oder es is ebbes letzt mit em Gaul oder Kärritsch, dann kannst Du selle Noht kollekte; Du brauchst net bang zu sei, se is so gut wie Gold. Is awer Alles grad so, wie es nau is, krieg ich mei Noht zurick."—D'r Bensch war's sellerweg zufriede. Er hot dem Fremde die Fuhr gewe un die Noht in sei Inseitsack gestickt. Noch-her hot es ihn awer doch en bissel ge-druwelt.

In acht Dag is d'r Mann zurick-kumme. „So, do sen mir wieder. Nau guck Dei Gaul un Kärritsch ah!"—D'r Bensch hot sell gedhu un dann gesaht: „D'r Gaul is in forstrehtem Zustand; Du bischt enihau ken Thierschinner. Ah die Kärritsch is noch grad, wie se war. Do is Dei Noht."—„Danke schee," segt d'r Fremd un hot Mohschens gemacht for zu gehe.—„Halt," segt d'r Bensch, „mei Bezahlung—vier Dhaler d'r Dag."—„For was?" frogt seller.—„Ei, for d'r Gaul un Kärritsch zu juhse."—„Du bischt wol net recht ge-scheid," segt d'r Fremd. „Ich hab Dir des Fuhrwese abkahft un Dir mei Noht gewe. Nau hoscht Du's dun mir wie-der kahft un mir mei Noht zurickgewe. So sen mir ewe. Drum sag ich Gut-bei!"—Do is d'r Bensch zum Squeier, hot en Warrant rausgenumme un d'r Cunstabel hot den Fremde gerescht. Vor em Squeier hot d'r Bensch dann die ganz Transäkschen verzählt. „Is es sellerweg?" hot dann d'r Squeier den Mann gefrogt. „Sell is grad, wie's war. D'r Liwery-Mann hot mir d'r Gaul net lehne welle, weil er mich net gekennt hot. Do hab ich Gaul un Kär-ritsch kahft un mei Noht derfor gewe. Wie ich zurickkumme bin, do hot er mich inschuhrt, es wär beedes noch so gut, wie's war, un er hot mir die Riggen wieder abkahft. Nau mecht ich wisse, was er noch will."—D'r Squeier hot en Weil in seine Lahbicher geblättert un dann gesaht: „So en Gäulshandel, wie des eener is, kann ich do net finne un ich hab ah noch nie ebbes bergleiche ge-heert. Ich meen aber, Bensch, wann Du selle Noht net genumme hätst, dann bätst Du en bessere Schoh stehe. Wie's is, kann ich net in Deim Fäver beseide un Du hoscht die Koste zu bezahle. Wann Du selle Noht noch im Sack hätst, wärst Du ah besser dran. Ver-leicht awer hot d'r Mischter do en Eise-hes un gebt Dir gutwillig ebbes."—„Well," segt d'r Fremd, „ich will net unewe sei. Wann ich sterwe sot, eb d'r Mann do sterbt, dann derf er mei Undertehker sei. Sell will ich in meim Wille festmache. Gutbei!"

D'r Bensch hot sei allertraurigst Ge-sicht ufgesetzt, wie er zur Squeier-Offis raus is, un en bar Dag is er in schwere Gedanke rumgelahfe. D'r Herrgott soll selle Leit gnädig sei, was in die nächste Woche seller Undertehker brauche, be-kohs se misse ah for seller Gaul un Kärritsch bezahle, sell is arbtig schuhr. Awer en guter G'spaß war's doch, was uf ihn is gespielt worre. Er hot sich ganz sehf mache welle, un wie's ferrig war, hot er erst recht nix kriegt un hot noch die Squeierkoste zahle misse.

INSURGENT BANDS.

They Are Making Affairs Very Lively in Vicinity of Monastir.

A BIG FIGHT AT DIAVAT

Rumors That a Turkish Detachment Has Been Defeated With a Loss of 140 Killed and Wounded.

MANY ITALIANS ARE ENLISTING

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 14.—Advices received here stated that a number of Turkish soldiers were attacked by the in-surgents at the village of Prilepitzi, near Prelip, and that several insurgents were killed.

There were encounters between the Turkish troops and the rebels also at Vodeni and Volenitza. A detachment of 150 men under one of Chief Srafoff's lieu-tenants, is said to have defeated the Turks with a loss to the latter of 140 in killed and wounded.

SALONIC, August 14.—Insurgent bands frequently visit Kastoria. A big fight is proceeding at Diavat, near Monastir.

Trustworthy information from Chegani, in the district of Florina, says the Turks have decided to murder the Austrian consul.

Great anxiety prevails at Monastir owing to the threatening attitude of the Turkish soldiers. It is stated that the French and Italian consuls are in danger of their lives.

Fighting is proceeding at Chernareka, near Gumerje, to which place reinforce-ments have been sent. A great move-ment of troops is proceeding at Mitrovitza, Salonica and Sorovitch.

Information from Monastir is to the effect that the insurgents have occupied Klisura and Pisedorore and that the Al-banian rebels have been disastrously de-feated in the Debyreko region. A Turk-ish post near Sorovitch has been robbed.

SOFIA, August 14.—The organs of the insurgents, the Autonomie, boldly prints Thursday the names of the chief leaders of the insurrection in the Vilayet Bitolis.

The news from the interior Thursday indicates that the adherents of the revolu-tion are showing a similar fearlessness under the new condition of things.

ROME, August 14.—Several hundred volunteers who have enlisted for service in the ranks of the insurgents in the Bal-kans are trying to induce General Ric-ciotti Garibaldi, a son of the great pat-riot, to lead the troops. General Ric-ciotti Garibaldi took a prominent part in the war between Greece and Turkey, and was looked upon as a great leader by the Greek troops.

BELGRADE, August 14.—The customs officials have imposed a fine of 21,000 francs on the Bulgarian government for attempting to smuggled into Servia eight wagons leaded with ammunition. The ammunition was packed in bales of paper.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignor-ance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant drains which are often consequent on marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the check of its freshness and the form of its fairness. As surely as the general health suffers when there is de-rangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and the form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Heat and Gas Plant to Change Hands.

If it does the company will rejuvinate the plant, and supply the town with heat the coming winter at a reduce rate, which is gratifying news for our people.

Ensign Urban Will Leave Bellefonte.

The many friends of Ensign Urban who has been in charge of the Salvation Army here for the past year will learn with re-gret that she is to leave Bellefonte and be transferred to other fields of usefulness. Miss Urban will leave a week from next Monday. Two new Salvation Army offi-cers are expected here in a few days.

On Saturday evening the Army will hold an ice cream social in their hall in the Centre County Bank Building to which the public is cordially invited. The admission is ten cents and the pro-ceeds are for the benefit of Miss Urban.

EAGLES AT MILESBURG.

Conferred Second Degree on a Class of Six—Enjoyable Occasion.

Twenty-seven members of Bellefonte Castle No. 357 Knights of the Golden Eagle, including their degree team drove to Milesburg Thursday evening and paid a fraternal visit to Milesburg Castle No. 222, and incidentally con-ferred the second degree upon a class of six candidates.

The Sir Knights left Bellefonte at 7:30 in Baum's hack and were most cordially received on their arrival at their destination by their brother Sir Knights.

The conferring of the 2nd degree by the team in their handsome new uni-forms was a most inspiring sight. It is needless to say that it was done satis-factory. The team is getting in shape to confer this degree at the coming meeting in Bellefonte on Labor Day September 7 of the Susquehanna Dis-trict K. G. E.

Just before the degree work J. Ken-nedy Johnston, Esq., of Bellefonte Cas-tle, made a short but appropriate ad-dress.

After the meeting the visitors were tendered a delightful little banquet, which all enjoyed immensely, return-ing to Bellefonte about 1 o'clock.

Jacob Marks, who is a most enthusi-astic Eagle, became so excited over the success of the evening that he forgot where he put his hat and finally had to borrow a cap from a brother Sir Knight in order to get home. It will be neces-sary for him to make another trip to Milesburg in order to set his headgear straight.

It is now in order for Milesburg Cas-tle to pay Bellefonte a visit, as we are sure they would receive a cordial wel-come.

A Chadd's Ford Boy's Good Fortune.

Joseph H. Painter, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Chadd's Ford, Pa., left for St. Louis Friday morning on an extended tour to Mexico, as assistant on a botanical excursion, sent out by the Smithsonian Institution.

He accompanies Dr. Joseph N. Rose, Curator of Botany in the National Mu-seum. They expect to visit Monterey, where a week will be spent on the sur-rounding hills in company with Dr. C. G. Pringle, of Charlotte, Vermont, who will join them there. From Monterey they expect to go to the City of Mexico but may stop off for a few days at San Luis Potosi.

The objective point is the Volcano of Toluca, on which grows a very curious plant, which is scientifically known as "Juliana," and for which the ex-pedition is sent out. They do not ex-pect to return before the middle of De-cember.—West Chester News.

Mr. Painter is a former State College student and has visited Bellefonte quite frequently.

Minister Kills Copperheads.

Rattlesnakes, copperheads and other venomous reptiles are unusually plen-tiful this year and snake stories are nu-merous. The latest comes from Rev. W. F. D. Noble, pastor of the Metho-dist church at Snydertown, and well known to many of our readers, having formerly been located at State College.

While out walking on Thursday last he came upon a den of copperhead snakes. He immediately gave battle and killed thirty-nine of the venomous reptiles.

As Rev. Noble is one of the good old-fashioned Methodist clergymen we must accept his story as true and made out of the whole cloth.

TOILET TIPS.

Greasy preparations used too freely on the face will cause the growth of that much dreaded down.

A toothbrush should always stand so that it will drain when not in use and it should be exposed to the air.

A nightly massaging of the forehead with the tips of the fingers will do wonders in smoothing out wrinkles.

Don't use lemon juice too often on the hands. Try white vinegar instead. Lemon juice shrivels and yellows the surface.

Cold cream rubbed around the nails will counteract the tendency to crack and will keep the skin around the nails soft and fresh looking.

One dram of boric acid mixed with four ounces of distilled witch hazel makes a good lotion for a greasy skin. Apply with a soft cloth or velvet sponge.

For dry hair an effective wash is one part glycerin to three parts rose-water, with five grains of salt of tartar to about one-half pint of the lotion. All lotions must be well shaken before using.

The following is a thoroughly reli-able prescription for blackheads: White precipitate, one dram; cold cream, one ounce. Mix thoroughly and apply to the face twice daily. It will remove the blemish.

Girls as Wage Earners.

This idea that women should seek to become wage earners, should work for money, is not one to be dismissed with a mere phrase or two. Its growing ef-fects are too pernicious to admit of that. The conditions which confront us are so different from the theories with which advocates of the economic independence of women seek to dazzle us as to demand some reconciliation. One would suppose, to hear the argu-ment for it, that there is something di-rectly ennobling in such wage earning. Its advocates seem to hold the idea that the business world opens up vis-tas of intellectual advancement and enfranchisement.

Any one who has ever watched the stream of girl toilers pouring down the minor avenues at 6 o'clock or who has made a study of their industrial pur-suits can judge how far they are ele-vated or likely to be by their employ-ment and its remunerations. What we need is a reaction against the madness of social destruction that has of late years turned our girls into wage earn-ers.—Household.

TIME IS THE TEST

The testimony of Bellefonte people stands the test

The test of time is what tells the tale. "A new broom sweeps clean" but will it wear well is what interests most. The public soon find out when misrepresen-tations are made and merit alone will stands the test of time. Bellefonte peo-ple appreciate merit and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; the do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every suf-ferer from kidney ills is looking for.

James Rine of 2 Thomas street em-ployed in the planing mill, says: "I can speak as highly now of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did years ago and my case is pretty good evidence that the cures made by them are not temporary. I have not had any of the severe pains in my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills while before I could not put on my shoes and could hardly drag my self around. Though I have had slight touches of back-ache it never amounted to much, I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to hundreds of people and I know of those who have had the greatest relief from suffering by using them. I can say they are reliable and permanent in their effects."

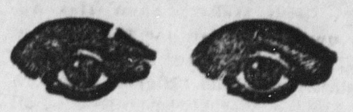
PROF. J. ANGEL



Eye Specialist!

of Williamsport, will make his monthly visit here for

ONE DAY,

Tuesday,

AUGUST 25th, 1903

from 8 a.m. to 6 p. m., with headquarters in

The Brockerhoff House

Bellefonte, Pa.

Hundreds are going blind daily, from the need of the proper pre-scribed glasses and from delaying attention to the eyes from time to time. Nothing will destroy your eyesight quicker than cheap glasses or glasses not properly fitted to your eyes.

Prof. Angel, in the short time he has been visiting this section, has met with marked success. Scores of leading citizens of this commu-nity have found relief from his treatment. It is not necessary to travel to Eastern cities for treat-ment when you can consult an emi-nent oculist at home.

He will examine your eyes at your home, by appointment, without ex-tra charge.

Death of a Little Child.

On Wednesday morning at 8.30 the life of little Robert Dukeman the 11 month old child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duke-man passed peacefully away. The little boy had only been sick a short time with whooping cough which brought on convu-sions, and the result was, as stated above. The funeral occurred on Friday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. J. A. Wood of the Methodist church of this place officiated. Interment was made at Curtin's Works in the family burying ground.

EDITORIAL.

By all means let us have government—Democratic, Aristocratic, Autocratic, anything but Mobocratic.

From the way the King of Ireland is flattering his subjects it may be suspected that he has not only kissed but has chewed the "Blarney Stone."

Why should ex-President Cleveland defend himself against the attacks of Bryan when the Republican papers are doing the defense for him?

Having marked about sixty of them for identification with buckshot, Sheriff Whitlock, of Danville, Illinois, is about to indict some of the mob leaders.

Mr. Bryan's paper says that President Roosevelt has been paralyzed by Imperialism but the election returns we thought had paralyzed Mr. Bryan, except his jaw.

Kansas is not to be pittied for lack of harvest hands when the State authorities announce that they will take steps to prevent marriage among their 7,000 "young lady teachers."

Col. Roosevelt displayed cool bravery when he charged San Juan Hill, but when he fled from Sagamore Hill before the conquering approach of Mother Jones he showed hot judgment.

Persia is blowing some of her undesirable citizens from the mouths of cannon. Of course, England is fearfully shocked at such cruelty. It is a long time since the days of the Sepoy rebellion.

There is reason to believe that a long step in the right direction has been taken by the Bureau of Immigration in providing for medical inspection of would-be immigrants before they debark for this country.

There is more than one way to avoid an argument with Mother Jones and her army. President Roosevelt's way seems to have been to get up in the night and gallop forty miles from Mother Jones' objective.

In inaugurating an investigation and the adoption of up-to-date methods in the Government Printing Office President Roosevelt believes that he cannot hurt anything in the labor unions which deserves to survive.

It has been demonstrated by figures that millions can be saved to the public by the introduction of business methods and up-to-date machinery in the immense public printing office in Washington. But similar saving can be made in at least a hundred other government offices.

A BIG CIRCUS IS COMING.

The Great Wallace Show Has Announced Its Date for This City.

The Great Wallace Show, so appropriately styled the "Highest Class Circus in the World," has completed all arrangements for its exhibition in Bellefonte on Tuesday, September 8.

The Wallace Show has been reorganized this year, and scores of new novelties and features will be seen for the first time in this country under the Wallace tents this season.

The Omaha Bee said: "We have been reading lately many complimentary comments on the greatly increased size and unquestioned merit of the newly equipped Great Wallace Shows, now touring the west, but were agreeably surprised today, first by the magnitude of the show as a whole, as it came in sections on its elegantly constructed trains, and again, by its stupendous, clean and novel parade. A show never presented a more gorgeous pageant. We visited the grounds later on a business errand and again met a surprise. The show is absolutely new throughout and covers not only the entire show lot but all the streets surrounding them. The tents at the afternoon performance were packed with visitors, and the circus programme for novelty, great features, comedy and real attractiveness, is far superior to anything offered to an Omaha audience for many years, and we have had all of the so-called big shows."

The Great Wallace Shows will exhibit in Bellefonte on Tuesday, September 8th.

$2.00 Snapper Destroys Goldfish Worth $200.

Reading, Aug. 18.—All that William Selak has to show for 500 18-karat goldfish that populated one of his fish ponds at Angelica is a ten-pound snapping turtle, which has been named "Gold Democrat."

Selak breeds goldfish and half a thousand of his finest stock were penned in a pond by themselves.

Doubtless the snapping turtle, which lived in a brook flowing into the pond, had feasted in anticipation upon the goldfish before he decided upon making a foray.

Working his way over the barriers that separated him from the pond he commenced an onslaught upon the fish. He stayed until 500 of them were dead.

Apparently the turtle killed in wantonness, for few of the fish were eaten. Selak noticed the dead fish and drew the water from the pond to find out what was the trouble. Then the huge snapper was revealed.

There were many silverfish in the pond, but the turtle touched none of these, confining himself to the goldfish. That is why he is called "Gold Democrat." The fish were worth about $200. The turtle might bring $2.

STORM AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

St. Louis, Aug. 17.—The buildings of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition have been tested by the wind and not found wanting. Wednesday afternoon August 5th., a storm of cyclonic nature and hurricane velocity swept over the site and when the air cleared it was seen that towers, minarets, cupolas, colonnades, all the beautiful work that goes to complete the new great city had escaped unharmed. Here and there a piece of staff had been carried away and a few window panes had been broken, but the damage to the completed structures was far less than that to residences in the heart of the city.

Yet there was loss on the site, both of life, limb and property—serious loss—the story of which has been sent forth by the telegraph. But it occurred where braces and beams had not been fastened and where temporary work furnished playthings for the elements. A portion of the light scaffolding on the Agriculture building was carried away and several of the trusses that had just been placed in position were thrown down, but even here, where the wind had full sweep, nothing that had been made fast gave way.

The storm broke at 2.45 o'clock, coming first out of the northwest, but immediately there were two wind currents sweeping the site, as was evidenced by the flags on the towers of the Administration building, which stood out in different directions. As there are no instruments for making meteorological observation at the Fair grounds, the exact velocity of the wind could not be measured, but persons who have had experience say that the gale moved at from seventy to eighty miles an hour. It was at its worst immediately in front of the administration building and in the semi-darkness a body of rain seemed to be carried along horizontally over the open land west of Skinker Road.

Grave fears were expressed, while the storm was at its height, that destruction would be everywhere manifest when the clouds should clear, but sunlight showed the picture complete as it had been, save for the loss of the scaffolding mentioned.

—A surprise party was given Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Louise Gessner in Coleville. It was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Batt and proved a very pleasant occasion to the guests present,

GAVE GOOD ADVICE,

President Roosevelt Delivered an Address at a Meeting Sunday.

IT WAS ON A VITAL TOPIC

"Decency of Speech and Conduct" Was His Theme and He Was Most Heartily Applauded.

MANY HUNDREDS LISTENED TO HIM.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., August 17.—President Roosevelt delivered the principa address at the quarterly meeting of the Society of the Holy Name, of Brooklyn and Long Island, held here Sunday. "Decency of Speech and Conduct" instituted the theme of his address. He was enthusiastically applauded by the audience of more than 2,000 persons, chiefly men.

When President Roosevelt rose to speak he was greeted with cheers and it was quite a minute before he was able to proceed. In the close of his address he said:

"We have good scriptural authority for the statement that it is not what comes into a man's mouth, but what goes out of it, that counts. I am not addressing weaklings, or I should not take the trouble to come here. I am addressing strong, vigorous men who are engaged in the active hard work of life and life to be worth living must be a life of active and hard work. I am speaking to men engaged in the hard, active work of life, and therefore men who will count for good or for evil, and it is peculiarly incumbent upon you who have strength to set a right example to others. I ask you to remember that you cannot retain your self respect if you are loose and foul of tongue; that a man who is to lead a clean and honorable life must inevitably suffer if his speech likewise is not clean and honorable. Every man here knows the temptations that beset all of us in this world. At times any man will slip. I do not expect perfection, but I do expect genuine and sincere effort towards being decent and cleanly in thought, in word and in deed.

As I said at the outset, I hail the work of this society as typifying one of those forces which tend to the betterment and uplifting of our social system. Our whole effort should be toward securing a combination of the strong qualities which we term virtues in the breast of every good citizen I respect you to be strong. I would not expect you if were not. I do not want to see Christianity professed only by weaklings; I want to see it a moving spirit among men of strength. I do not expect you to lose one particle of your strength or courage by being decent. On the contrary, I should hope to see each man who is a member of this society, from his membership in it became all the fitter to do the rough work of the world, all the fitter to work in time of peace, and if, which may Heaven forfend, war should come, all the fitter to fight in time of war.

I desire to see in this country the decent men strong and the strong men decent, and until we get that combination in pretty good shape we are not going to be by any means as successful as we should be. There is always a tendency among very strong men and among boys who are not quite young men as yet, to think that to be wicked is smart; it shows that they are men. Oh, how often you see some young fellow who boasts that he is going to see life, meaning by that he is going to see that part of life which it is a thousand fold better if it remains unseen. I ask that every man here constitute himself his brother's keeper by setting an example to that younger brother which will prevent him from getting such a false estimate of life as that. Example is the most potent of all things. If any one of you, in the presence of younger boys, and especially the younger people of your own family, misbehaves yourself; if you use coarse and blasphemous language before them you can be sure that these younger people will follow your example and notice your precept. It is no use to preach to them if you do not act decently yourself. You have got to feel that the most effective way in which you can preach is by your practice.

Died in Pittsburg.

B. F. Gage, formerly of South Philipsburg, but who moved to Pittsburg about a year and a half ago, died there Friday morning at 8 o'clock in West Penn hospital, of congestion of the brain, aged 34 years, 11 months and 14 days. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their loss. Mr. Gage was born in Half Moon Valley, this county. He also leaves three brothers and one sister.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at Marengo, this county.

LOGANS AT STATE COLLEGE

The Town Wild With Excitement Friday Night.

The little town of State College was nearly turned up-side-down on Friday evening with excitement. It put one in mind of the Buffalo exposition or the Bellefonte carnival. At anyrate the people turned out in general and everyone seemed to have had an old-fashioned, royal good time.

The cause of all this disturbance in this quiet little town was, that they have some splendid young men in it who have formed themselves into a Hose, Hook and Ladder company and in order to buy their paraphernelia they started a canival on a limited scale and since last Wednesday evening the boys have been doing a mammoth business. The occasion on Friday night capped the climax, as the Bellefonte Logan Fire Engine company became inspired with brotherly love and with the renowned Coleville band went to State College on a special train, leaving here at 6:30 o'clock, to help their fellow firemen in this great cause, which all good citizens should participate in. Fully five hundred people accompanied these two organizations to the College and helped swell the vast throng that had already gather in the little town.

As soon as the Logan Fire company reached the College the parade was formed and the line of march was begun, over fully a mile of ground, through the most prominent streets of the little city. the Coleville band leading. Fifty of the Logans were in uniform and presented a most magnificent appearance in their new costumes.

The streets along the line of march were crowded with country folks who had come from far and near, and as our boys, both the band and fire company, passed by you could hear nothing but praise and applause on all sides. It is certainly a credit to our town to have two such organizations as they are.

At a late hour the special train returned to Bellefonte and all claimed to have had a royal good time. The manner in which the railroad company conveyed this crowd to the College and back is praiseworthy and it goes to show that no matter how large the crowd the company can accommodate them.

Mrs. Margaret Jones.

Mrs. Margaret Jones, widow of Lewis S. Jones, deceased, died at her home in Lewisburg, Saturday afternoon, after an illness of a long duration, aged seventy-seven years, seven months and ten days, says the Journal of recent issue.

Mrs. Jones was born near Spring Mills. Early in life she was converted and united with the M. E. church, in which she was a consistent member until the day of her death. For thirty years she had been a sufferer from the inroads of disease which she bore with great patience to the end. Her closing hours of life were calm and peaceful.

On Feb. 14, 1845, she became the wife of Lewis E. Jones, who preceded her to the land beyond, sixteen years ago. Mrs. P. L. Shultz, their only child, remains to mourn her loss. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. H. Colburn, her pastor, at the residence of her son in-law.

Among those from a distance in attendance were Rev. L. K. Evans, of Pottstown, a brother of deceased; Miss Helen Smith, Geo. Goodhart and wife of Centre Hill; Dr. D. M. Wolfe, of Spring Mills; Daniel Daup, Potters Mills; Samuel Reber, Williamsport; Jesse Irvin, Reading; J. Wells Evans, Spring Mills.

Stole Sample Case but Was Captured.

Bloomsburg, Aug. 17.—Friday the sample case of Joseph N. King, salesman for Young & Brothers, cigar manufacturers at Farrandsville, was stolen from the Exchange hotel. The case contained 13 boxes of cigars. When it was discovered that the case had been taken, inquiry was made when it was learned that a man had sold four boxes of cigars at one of the hotels in town, and had treated every one he met to a good cigar.

The proprietor of the Exchange hotel and Mr. King started out on a hunt for the person who was so generous with the cigars. He was found at a house at Catawissa and when he saw King, he jumped from the second story window and ran. They followed him a mile when he jumped into the river and swam out into the stream. When he reached the middle of the river he called for help, evidently being nearly exhausted, Men in a boat went to his assistance and he was arrested as soon as he reached the shore. At the hearing he was held for his appearance at court.

Might Have Been Serious.

On Wednesday afternoon what might have been a serious accident occurred while hauling in hay on the Pletcher farm above town.

While Samuel, the eight year old son of Rudolph Pletcher was driving the wagon on which was about half loaded, the boy some how fell off the wagon and the hind wheel run over his neck, great was their surprise when the boy jumped up unhurt, a clod of dirt was just in front of the wheel which raised it when the boy fell under, he received no bruises but a slight scratch on the neck.—Howard Hustler.

AN ORDINANCE

Providing for the transcribing and certifying the Ordinances now in force in the Borough, into a new Ordinance Book, and directing how Ordinances hereafter adopted shall be entered:

WHEREAS, The book in which the Borough Ordinances have heretofore been recorded is lost;

AND WHEREAS, It is necessary that the Ordinances heretofore legally passed should be collected from the minutes of the Council, and from a small book containing some of the Ordinances in print, and retranscribed and recorded in a book to be known as the Ordinance Book of the Borough of Bellefonte; Therefore;

SECTION I. Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the Borough of Bellefonte in Council assembled, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by authority of the same; That the Ordinances heretofore regularly passed and enacted by the Borough Council and now in force in the said Borough be transcribed into the Ordinance Book, by the use of a book-typewriter, and that a certificate signed by the President and attested by the Secretary, specifying the Ordinances by title so transcribed were duly compared with the originals and are true copies thereof and that they were transcribed in pursuance of and by direction of the Council.

SECTION II. That hereafter, all Ordinances passed by the Council, after being duly signed by the President thereof, attested by the Secretary, approved by the Chief Burgess, published and posted as required by law, shall be transcribed under the subject or heading to which they may relate, either in writing or by the use of a book-typewriter, and after being so transcribed it or they shall be signed by the Chief Burgess and attested by the Secretary: the Secretary shall then place immediately after the record of such Ordinance a certificate certifying that the law relating to the passage of Ordinances, that transcribing, publishing and the posting of copies thereof has been fully complied with and shall date, sign and affix the corporate seal to the said certificate.

Ordained and enacted into an Ordinance this 17th day of August, A. D. 1903.

J. M. CUNNINGHAM,

A Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Woomer, of Yarnell, having reached their Fiftieth Marriage Anniversary celebrated their golden wedding on last Saturday, Aug. 15, 1903. There were in all about one hundred gathered at their home. Guests were there from Mill Hall, Philipsburg, Pitcairn, Snow Shoe, West Virginia and elsewhere. It was a great day. An elaborate dinner awaited all present, and all did justice to this dinner, which had been prepared by kind hands and loving hearts. Father and mother Woomer, while in the evening of life can look back over a well spent life. They are both honored members of the U. B. church, at Pleasant Valley. They also have helped much in building up their community, they have raised a large family who are all industrious children. They are also blessed with many grandchildren, and some great-grandchildren. In the afternoon there was some music and a few words spoken and prayer by their pastor, they received very many valuable presents. It was a day that will long be remembered and it was good to be there.

BROOM STOCK BOOMS

From the facts presented you will understand why stock of the International Broom Company, Manufacturers of the Twentieth Century Broom, is a gilt-edged investment, and why it is regarded as such by all who will not put their money into any enterprise unless they see great and speedy profits ahead. Owing to the quick growth and great progress of the International Broom Company the stock has been advanced to

60 CENTS A SHARE.

We would advise intending investors to avail themselves of this low price and purchase before another raise. With the various applications for sub-companies now in hand, there is no doubt that about the latter part of August the price will be advanced to

75 CENTS A SHARE.

The high place The New Broom gained in public favor is due to the Company's ability to produce solid proof of every statement.

Contract closed for sub-company in Chicago with largest broom manufacturer in the United States.

Contract closed for sub-company in New Haven, Conn.

Contract will be closed shortly for sub-company in Kansas City.

Contract will be closed shortly for sub-company in Fall River, Mass.

Contract will be closed shortly for sub-company in City of Mexico.

Sub-Company now manufacturing the New Broom in Ottawa, Ont.

All on royalties to the parent company—The Ottawa Company alone will pay the International Broom Company about $25,000 a year in royalties.

20 Other Applications for Sub-Companies Now Pending.

WE ASSERT AND CAN PROVE

That the demand for The New Broom is as wide as the civilized world.

That it is the only sanitary broom made.

That the Brooklyn factory made in April, 1903, twice as many brooms as in March and four times as many as in February, and earned a profit of more than 25 per cent. over its operating expenses on its production.

That dealers, wholesale and retail, think so well of The New Broom that they are becoming stockholders in the Company.

If we could not prove all this, and more, we should not expect any careful and conservative investor to buy this stock.

As we are thoroughly familiar with the plans and projects of the Company and the possibilities of The New Broom we unhesitatingly declare that this stock should very soon pay a dividend in the par value and rapidly advance until it sells for $2.00 or $3.00 per share.

It is, therefore, advisable that intending investors who wish to investigate this proposition do so at an early date before the next advance in price is announced. Those who subscribe now will be benefited by the increase.

Intending investors can obtain full particulars and ample proof of the claims of this Company on application at our office.

THE PIPE OF PEACE.

Possible to the Great Army of American Smokers for the First Time Since the Days of 1898.

Every one of the millions of American smokers remembers the decrease in weight of package of his favorite brand of tobacco as a result of the war with Spain. While the "man behind the gun" was fighting the battle in front, the man behind the pipe was helping "pay the piper" at home Now, however, a thoroughly good smoking tobacco, Giant Long Cut, is on the market in full three-ounce packages, selling for five cents. In addition to nearly double the usual quantity, without sacrifice of quality, there is a valuable coupon in every package.

—Thirty millions of dollars is a low estimate for the cost of constructing a new freight line between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, but such a train load of money is being expended by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for a new line from Philadelphia to Harrisburg and for the new Portage line and other distinctly freight cutoffs between Pittsburg and Altoona.

By Wireless Telegraphy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Cunarder steamer Campania, which arrived Saturday morning from Liverpool, brought a full complement of saloon passengers.

The Marconi system of telegraph was put in operation by a passenger shortly after leaving Queenstown. This passenger was Henry Robertson. He found himself with unsufficient funds to pay his expenses on the steamer Lucania, bound for Liverpool, and he sent the following wireless message:

"Mrs. J. L. Robertson, passenger Lucania, pay pursur Lucania, £10, asking him to advise purser Campania to pay me. Henry."

Communication was established when the ships were fifty miles distant on Aug. 12, at 12:45 in the morning. This reply was received at 1:45:

"Graham, purser Campania, pay Henry Robertson £10; have collected money from his mother, who is aboard Lucania. Milliken, purser."

This is said to be the first money order by Marconigram in mid-Atlantic.

PASSED OVER INTO THE HOME-LAND.

Miss Cassie Derstine Life's Work Finished.

This morning shortly after sunrise the peaceful angel of death entered the quiet little home of Miss Cassie Derstine on Lamb street and called away the spirit life of that lady to her home above.

She always lived in Bellefonte and was known by nearly everyone in the town. She had hosts of friends who share with her brothers in their sisters death. Living as she did, a quiet peaceful life, many deede of kindness will shine in her crown in the Gloryland.

Miss Cassie Derstine was born in Harrisburg and when a small child she moved with her parents to Bellefonte. She was about 70 years of age. The cause of her death was the result of paralysis. When in health she was always found in her place of worship in the Lutheran church of which she was a member. She leaves to mourn her death three brothers, namely William and John Derstine of Bellefonte and Samuel Derstine of Rockford Illinois.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Wm. Derstine on North Penn St. It will be conducted by Rev. H. C. Holloway, D D., assisted by Rev. Ambrose Schmidt.

Fly Eggs Hatched in Man's Ear.

Orville Moore, of Bloomsburg, is the victim of an unusual misfortune. Several days ago he became afflicted with catarrh in the head and in the course of time the affliction grew into a very sore gathering in his head near one of his ears. While in this condition the ear became the depository for the eggs of a fly. These hatched out and the larvae penetrated to the disease part, causing intense suffering. An operation was accordingly performed and the vermin removed, but Mr. Moore is still in a very critical condition, so much so the fears for his life are entertained.

Will be a Test Station.

Jersey Shore Junction is to be a test station for the Western Union Telegraph company, after next week, and from that place twenty-five different wires will be tested. At present the test stations nearest that are Gillintown and Williamsport, but the great need of one between these two places is the reason it was located their.

Free Entertainment.

The Hartley Medicine Co., of Philadelphia are giving free and refined entertainments nightly on the street opposite the Garman House. This company comes very highly recommended by the people of other towns, that they have visited, which is nearly 300 in the state of Pennsylvania and none of them West of Tyrone. The entertainment consists of all the latest sentimental comic and coon songs of the day introducing musical novelties of many kinds by Mr. and Mrs. Gus Burton. The comedian John Baldwin will introduce wooden and soft shoe dancing. Remember these people are capable of giving you an entertainment equal to many that you see in the theater. Prof. Hartley is doing a big business with the sale of his Medicine and soap nightly. He recommends the Medicine for a few diseases which the human family suffer from, such as Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles, catarrh of the head, throat, stomach and bladder. Prof. Hartley's assertion that the Liver is the Fountain of Life and the cause of nine-tenths of the chronic diseases the human flesh fall heir to "is true," and Hartley's South American Relief does put the Liver in action. It is a pure vegetable remedy you can give it to the youngest child or the oldest person, and it will injure none. Before you buy ask some one that is using it, if it is an article of merit and if they cannot recommend it "Don't Purchase."

—A plank fell from the hands of a man above, striking Arthur Watts on the forehead, at the new steel car plant of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona. The blow fractured the man's skull. The accident happened Monday afternoon and Watts died at the hospital at 7.15 in the evening. He was 29 years old, and is survived by his wife and one child four months old.

THE FISH SURGEON.

OPERATIONS WHICH HE PERFORMS UPON HIS PATIENTS.

Knife and Shears Are Used, and the Fish May Be Kept Out of Water From Five to Seven Minutes—How Medicines Are Administered.

The fish doctor, like the regular doctor, gives medicine, performs surgical operations and superintends his patients' diet and environment. These are the principal operations which he performs: Trimming the fish's tail with fish shears when fungous growths enlarge it; stripping the fish to remove the eggs or milt that have not been naturally deposited; excising with the lance tumors, lacerated scales and splinters of bone.

Among the medicines that the fish doctor gives are castor oil for swelling of the swimming bladder and nux vomica for debility and emaciation. This specialist also presides over the food of the fish, inspects their food troughs thoroughly and makes microscopic examinations of their water to see that it contains the proper life giving elements in their due proportions. Regarding these matters, which are as important to healthy as to sick fish, the leading fish doctor of Philadelphia recently said:

"A food trough of enameled ware that will not rust should be used for fish. At the same time each day their oatmeal should be put in this trough, which should always be kept in the same place, and as a consequence of this treatment the fish will gather around their trough at mealtime, which they will instinctively recognize, as greedily as hogs, burying their noses in the food when it is set before them and crowding and pushing one another in a healthy, ravenous and hoglike manner. The trough should be cleaned once a day lest it get sour, but the water of the fish should rarely be changed. Even when it becomes foul smelling it should only be changed gradually—a quart a day, say—for to change it all at once has the effect of a terrible exposure—is, indeed, the same as if you should snatch a child from its warm bed and lay it naked out of doors in the cold night wind and snow."

It is not the detention of fish from their native element that makes fish surgery difficult, for they can be kept out of the water for five, six and seven minutes without the slightest harm to them, and there is no operation that requires a longer space of time. But what makes it difficult is the disinclination of the flesh to heal after it has been cut. A wound to heal requires to be dry. Nothing is more deleterious to it than any sort of moisture, and hence the troubles of a fish wound bathed and soaked in water all the time. Inevitably, therefore, fish operations are simple and slight.

One of them is the trimming of tails enlarged to unwieldiness by growths of fungus. In this work sharp shears, with blades oddly curved—fish shears—are employed. The fish is lifted from the water and held head downward while its tail is being trimmed. A dexterous operator gets through the work in two or three minutes. There is no flow of blood and no gaping wound that will not heal; hence tail trimming is in nine cases out of ten successful. It must be resorted to often with Japanese goldfish, for these costly and graceful creatures, with their resemblance to strange golden flowers, have tails bigger than their bodies, and when their tails, as frequently happens, become affected with fungus, they are unable to swim well, and sometimes, indeed, they drown. A fish "drowns" technically when, floating with its head out of the water, it dies from asphyxiation.

The knife is used on fish to remove tumors or lacerated scales or splintered bones, which, unexcised, would cause the fish's death. Lacerations of the scales are only treated when they are so severe that the fish without treatment would surely die. This operation is successful in about 70 per cent of the cases. The remaining 30 per cent die because their wounds do not heal.

Stripping is an operation resorted to when, in the breeding season, the fish, through some malady or other, does not deposit naturally its eggs or its milt. The patient in this operation is held with the left hand while with the right a firm pressure is exerted along its sides from the breast down to the tail. Stripping is the least dangerous of all the operations in fish surgery.

Admirable results are obtained by dosing fish with medicines. Castor oil, for swelling of the swimming bladder, is a remedy that seldom fails. A fish's dose of castor oil is one drop, diluted slightly. The liquid may be administered either with a spoon or with a quill toothpick. The process in each case is similar. The fish is held in an erect position, its head well up, and the drippings from the toothpick or the contents of the spoon are directed into its mouth. Sometimes they flow forth again through the gills, and in this event the dose must be repeated.

A swollen swimming bladder is a frequent and dangerous ailment of captive fish. Under it they become extremely corpulent and unwieldy. At length they turn over and float on their backs. Finally they die. But in nine cases out of ten one dose of castor oil cures this disease in a day. Fish often lose appetites, become thin and weak and apathetic. Their trouble then is stomachic, and nux vomica, with them as with human beings, affords quick relief. A drop of dilute nux vomica will bring back a fish's appetite, restore its weight and make it active and cheerful.—New York Tribune.

THE BELLEFONTE HOSPITAL.

First Annual Meeting of Corporation—Old Officers Re-elected.

At the first annual meeting of the Bellefonte Hospital corporation, held at the office of Col. W. F. Reeder on Tuesday afternoon, all of the old members and officers were re-elected.

While all of the hospital statistics will be published in an annual report there are a few matters that might be interesting to the public in advance of its issuance:

The number of patients admitted during the year have been 88, the number discharged 74, deaths 5, present patients 9.

The receipts from all sources have been $2,473.47, the expenditures $2,406.86. Of the receipts $1,500.81 represents income from patients; the balance being donations, etc.

In addition to the latter amount, however, hundreds of dollars worth of supplies have been sent to the institution and over $1,200 in cash contributed for the improvements to the building, all of which will be noted in the forthcoming report.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Horse, Killed by Lightning.

During last Tuesday's short but terrific thunder storm a horse belonging to Jerry Erdle, of near Yearick's church, in the upper end of Brush valley, was killed by lightning.

Mr. Erdle was on the road with a one-horse load of hay, the storm came on suddenly as he came near to the home of John Ream, where he let his team stand on the road and went into the house for shelter. There was a terrific peal of thunder and as Mr. Erdle went out he found his horse had been instantly killed by a stroke of lightning while in the shafts. The bolt left the horse and shattered a post nearby, leaving its marks on the ground.

The loss will be severely felt by Mr. Erdle, as he is a poor man, and bought the horse in the spring for $140.

Child's Abdomen Punctured by Spike

The 5 years' old daughter of Josiah M. Romig, South Williamsport, met with a terrible accident Wednesday morning, which is very liable to result fatally. The child was playing in the hay mow of a barn in the rear of her residence, and stumbled and fell on a rusty spike that protruded six inches out of the barn floor. The force of the fall drove the spike its full length into the child's abdomen causing an ugly wound and injuries of a decidedly serious internal nature.

SARTO AT VENICE.

Pope's Influence There Arose From Contact With the People.

Thousands of Venetian workingmen while rejoicing in the triumph of Giuseppe Sarto in the conclave at Rome deeply regret that his genial presence and helpful ministry will be known in Venice no more, says the Chicago News. The great cathedral where Sarto presided is frequented by his shepherdless flock. The people assemble beneath the quintuple domes and kneel with bowed heads, anon lifting up their eyes to the pulpit whence their archbishop was wont to launch many stirring appeals to the conscience of Venice.

This scene is a forcible reminder of the character, methods and power of the new pope. He believed first of all in close human contact with his people and then in the efficacy of magnificent church decoration and striking ceremonial for the promotion of an elevated state of soul. He thoroughly enjoyed the splendor of the cathedral of St. Mark and witnessed with satisfaction how its spaciousness and beauty affected the worshipers. He was wont to organize special services involving dramatic elements.

On St. Mark's day, before 6 o'clock in the morning, the cathedral was always filled with an eager multitude. Large gondolas brought boat loads of workingmen from the different parishes in the city to the landing steps on the Grand canal. Each parish formed a procession, with the parish priest at its head in his black cassock singing the litany. One procession followed another into the church and up to the chancel steps, where each in turn broke ranks. The inpouring of these parochial processions continued until St. Mark's was packed almost entirely with workingmen and their spiritual leaders.

Then Cardinal Sarto, gorgeously arrayed, mounted the pulpit and preached a sermon. His natural eloquence made doubly effective the inculcation of lofty ideals of private morality, patriotism and civic duty. His sermons were always punctuated with applause. Nobody could overlook the close sympathy between the preacher and the people. It is thought in Venice that such a leader will breathe a new spirit into the papacy which will revive the most remote disciples of the Catholic faith.

NEW KIND OF MONEY.

Novel Paper Will Make Bank Notes Flexible as Silk.

Treasury officials are much interested in experiments now in progress with a new kind of paper to be used in national currency, says the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press. Mr. E. H. Fowler, chief draftsman of the coast and geodetic survey, and D. N. Hoover, chief printer of the bureau of engraving and printing, have invented a chemical treatment for paper that is said to render it soft and velvety and to make it absolutely nonshrinkable. If adopted the process will alter the character of paper money, and instead of the stiff, crisp, crackling bank note the paper currency will be soft to the touch. It is claimed that sixty days less time will be required to manufacture bank notes under this process than under the present method, a very important consideration when a supply of bank notes is required in a hurry.

Under the present process of printing paper money the paper has to be thoroughly soaked in water. While in that condition one side of the bill is printed. The sheet is then placed in a steam room and kept under a high temperature for thirty days. It is again soaked and the reverse side of the bill printed. Another thirty days' drying process is then required. Where a third impression on a bill is necessary, and that is required when printing is done in two colors, this wetting and drying process must be repeated and another month consumed in its production. The new process does away with the soaking of the paper in water. There is no shrinkage of the paper either, and that is regarded as a valuable improvement. There are a few details regarding the methods of applying the new preparation to paper yet to be worked out, but the treasury officials believe that it can be applied successfully, and it will not be expensive.

Memorial to a Squaw.

The women of Oregon have formed an association for the purpose of erecting a statue of Sacajewea at the Lewis and Clark Centennial exhibition, says the New York Evening Journal. Sacajewea was an Indian woman of the Shoshone tribe who was of great service to the explorers Lewis and Clark. She smoothed their way with her own tribe and with the Flatheads and Nez Perces and procured ponies for them at a time when they would have been forced to abandon the expedition but for her assistance. She acted as their guide, and it was said of her that she had the instinct of a homing pigeon in threading the wilderness. The proposed memorial will cost $6,000.

Pillow Covers.

If outside covers are an inch smaller each way than the pillows the result will be nice, plump looking pillows, where if the covers and pillows are the same size the effect would be flat and displeasing.

BADLY SHATTERED!

Fishing Boat Silver Spray's Encounter With Canadian Revenue Cutter

ON THE HISTORIC LAKE ERIE

The American Boat Was Badly Shattered by Shots Fired From the Cutter and Was Nearly Captured.

CASE IS TO BE REPORTED TO HAY

ERIE, August 13.—The Silver Spray, a fishing boat owned here, came into port yesterday afternoon in a badly shattered condition due to an encounter in mid-lake about noon with the Canadian Revenue Cutter Petrel.

The Canadian authorities have had trouble with American fishermen for years, who were poaching on their side of the lake and the Petrel is kept constantly on the outlook for them.

About noon she came upon the Silver Spray on the Canadian side of the lake and at once ordered Captain Chris Chau to stop. The Petrel is a strong steel craft, and it is said attempted to ram the American boat before she could comply with the former's order. Captain Chau remembering the fate of several other boats from this side, which had been captured and confiscated, two from Erie, only last season, decided to try and escape and started ahead at full speed.

The captain of the Petrel, when he saw that the Silver Spray was trying to get away, opened fire with all the guns he had on board, and before he ceased firing some twenty shots had struck her. One passed through the smokestack into the pilot house in which Chau stood at the wheel and two more struck the pilot house, one of which came within a few inches of him, scattering a myriad of splinters around his head.

The fact that no one was killed, is simply miraculous, as two shots entered the water closet, two in the cabin, two in the roof, three in the after-hurricane deck and the others in various parts of the boat.

The chase was kept up for some little time and Captain Chau was nearly in despair as his cold water pump refused to work and he was also afraid that his boat might be struck below the water line and sunk. He was very lucky, however, to get across the dividing line and the Petrel gave up the pursuit.

The Silver Spray is a double decker and was for twelve years in service at Buffalo as a pleasure steamer.

Captain Chau will report the affair to the State Department at Washington, as he says he was only looking for some of his nets which had drifted from this side toward the Canadian shore.

A large number of American fishing tugs have been confiscated by the Canadian government; one, however, belonging at Dunkirk, was, a few weeks ago, ordered returned by Secretary of State Hay.

An Immense Car.

A private car has recently been built by the Bethlehem Steel company for its own use. The company is supplying some very large castings for a 12,000 ton forging press for the Carnegie Steel company and this car is for its transportation.

The car has sixteen wheel trucks connected by bridge trusses, sixty-six feet ten inches long and six feet deep at the centre. The distance between the king bolts is sixty-four feet. The car is 103 feet 10½ inches long over the couplers and 9 feet 9 inches wide. It weighs 196,420 pounds and has a rated capacity of 303,000 pounds.

The largest car hitherto constructed was probably that used by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for transporting a Krupp gun to the Columbia Exposition. It also had 32 wheels, but its rated capacity was somewhat less than that of the new car.

GROUND BROKEN FOR HATCHERY

Fish Commissioner W. E. Meehan and Supt. Creveling Here.

Fish Commissioner W. E. Meehan accompanied by John P. Creveling, of Allentown, who is to be Superintendent of the new State Fish Hatchery at Pleasant Gap, were arrivals in town Wednesday and are registered at the Bush House.

In the afternoon ground was broken for the new hatchery and about twelve men were set to work cleaning out streams and developing springs. At first it was feared the springs would not develop enough water as it did not come up to what was expected. Other springs however have been located and Commissioner Meehan anticipates no trouble about the water.

The water from the spring near the pike will supply the hatching house and springs on the Ross property and from Logan's Branch will be used for the lake on the middle property and the Bass hatchery.

Plans and rough specifications for the hatchery house were prepared Wednesday night by Messrs. Meehan and Creveling. They include a house 100 feet long and 40 feet wide. It will be of frame and contain 99 double troughs. The walls will be twelve feet high.

The new Superintendent John P. Creveling is the father of fish culture in Pennsylvania. He was the first Superintendent the fish commission ever had and was in charge of their first hatchery, the Marietta Hatchery at Donegal, Pa.

Two of the States three Superintendents and two of the three Assistant Superintendents were taught all they know by him.

He has had an experience of many years and has been in charge of the Allentown hatchery. He is therefore fully capable to take charge of the largest hatchery in the State.

Col. E J. Pruner, of Tyrone, has donated to the state four acres from the farm he recently purchased from the Hastings estate which land is to be used for a Bass Hatchery exclusively. This is a generous act on the part of Col. Pruner and will be appreciated by our citizens.

The new Superintendent Mr. Creveling will move his family here as soon as a house can be built for him on the new grounds. The Hatchery buildings will be finished by the 1st of October so that supplies can be shipped here from Allentown.

Commissioner Meehan wishes us to state that no more men are required at present as they have all the men they can make use of.

Children Steal Horse and Elope.

Maude Smith, aged twelve years, whose home is near Ralston, eloped last Saturday night from Leroy, Bradford county, with a fifteen-years-old boy named Coulter. The children and the conveyance that they had stolen were overhauled near Big Flats, N. Y., on Monday. A Leroy correspondent, writing to today's Towanda Review, relates the particulars of the juvenile exploit as follows:

"On Saturday evening John Fenton, of Bunyan Hill, was attending an entertainment in the Grange hall when his horse and carriage and two overcoats were taken from the church sheds. The same night Sam Coulter, fifteen years old, who had been working near Granville, and whose home is said to be at or near Big Flats, N. Y., and Miss Maud Smith, a twelve-years-old child from Lycoming county, who had been stopping for a few weeks with her sister at LeRoy, were missing. It was immediately surmised that the eloping infants had gone with Mr. Fenton's rig, and he notified the police of the surrounding towns, and himself started out on the trail. The runaways were overhauled on Monday at Big Flats, and Mr. Fenton secured his rig and returned the girl to her relatives. When Coulter saw his captors approaching he ran to the woods, deserting his companion."

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure all diseases arising from disordered kidneys or bladder. C. M. Parrish.

Kunes—Hoover.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hoover in Union township presented a beautiful scene on Wednesday the 12th instant, the occasion being the marriage of their eldest daughter Lulu May to Charles C. Kunes of Altoona.

Promptly at high noon to the strains of Mendlesohn's wedding march executed by Miss Rachael Hoover, the bride and groom attended by Miss Clara Hoover a sister of the bride and Harry Kuner a brother of the groom appeared from the house and took their positions before the Rev. R. H. Wharton, of Milesburg on the spacious front porch which had been arranged for the occasion and by the solemn ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church were declared man and wife.

About fifty relatives and friends of the contracting parties assembled to witness this happy event. At the conclusion of the ceremony they were invited inside where a sumptuous wedding dinner had been prepared. At the conclusion of which and after congratulations all around the bride and groom departed on an extended wedding tour, which includes Atlantic City, New York and other eastern cities, after which they will locate in a cozy home at Altoona established by the groom who holds a lucrative position at that place with the Penn. R. R.

The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts. Guests were present from St. Paul, Minn., Altoona, Tyrone, Bellwood, Lock Haven, Bellefonte, Beech Creek, Belle-Vernon, Milesburg, Howard, Port Matilda and Unionville.

A PHYSICIAN HEALED.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostrate glands. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success." C. M. Parrish.

Not the Man That Shot Attig.

There was a little stir in police circles Tuesday evening when the Bald Eagle Valley train arrived in Tyrone. During the afternoon Detective Rightnour, of Bellefonte, arrested a yellow negro at Port Matilda who he thought answered the description of the man Cadwick, who shot John Attig. He brought him to Tyrone, but the captive proved not to be the man wanted. Before starting Rightnour telephoned to Officer Wands a description of the man he had in charge, and that officer replied that he was not the fellow wanted, but the detective came on with his man anyhow. The prisoner proved to be Henry Washington, who is employed on the paving work here. Monday he had a "misunderstanding" with some of his comrades and "strayed away" from town. He is now holding down his job in good shape, having got back to his temporary home without expense for transportation.—Tyrone Herald.

—John Wood, a Bedford county man, has been arrested for perjury and gave $500 bail for a court trial. Wood recently secured a license to marry a girl and two days later took out a licenee to marry still another. The first victim had him arrested for swearing that she is 18 years old, knowing that she is only 14.

Beech Creek Defeated State College.

The Beech Creek base ball team defeated the town team at State College Friday in an exciting game by the score of 8 to 7. Quigley pitched his usual good game for Beech Creek, striking out sixteen men, but was wild at times and gave bases on balls which allowed the State College nine to score. Robinson, an ex-college pitcher, was in the box for the latter and did good work. A feature of the game was the heavy batting of Ralph Hall. The Beech Creek boys all played a good game and deserve credit for their victory. They returned home at midnight a tired party after the long drive. They were entertained at the Bush house in this place for supper. Several persons from Beech Creek accompanied the team.
